

Fingerprint Background Checks

Washington State law requires that any person newly hired by a school district with regularly scheduled, unsupervised access to children be fingerprinted for state and national background checks. Since this process could take eight to ten weeks or longer, employees are urged to initiate this process as soon as possible. OSPI retains fingerprint background information for two years only