

Remote Learning One Page Summary

Here are a few important things to keep in mind when school is operating remotely.

First - Bell Schedule

No matter what day of the week, if we are remote, we will follow the schedule found on the back of this sheet. This means:

- All six classes will be taught any day we are remote
- Attendance will be taken. If you are not present, you will be marked absent.
- There will be a T3 session to provide support for your learning after 2nd period
- Staff will be available in zoom from 1:30 - 2:00 each day.
- Some students who have shown a need for extra support will be working with staff before 8:55 and after 2:00

Second - Accessing Classes

All teachers have a zoom link for remote learning. The zoom link will be posted in Google Classroom for all six of classes and Homeroom. Students should check their google classroom for each class.

- Once located, students should have it easily accessible for future use.
- If a student can't find a link they should ask the teacher (through email, google classroom), or ask another student in class.

Third - Chromebooks

- Students need to take their chromebook home everyday and have it charged overnight to be ready for classes the next day (whether remote or when on campus)
- While every effort will be made to communicate information about going remote as early as possible, but it may be announcement the morning of, so it is important to get into the habit of having a charged chromebook each morning

More information about remote learning can be found on the Meridian SD website.
